The Trustees share your data with the Schemes' administrators Barnett Waddingham LLP, Scheme Actuary, the sponsoring employers and AVC providers. They may also share data with the Trustees' other professional advisers (including the Schemes Auditor and pension consultants), regulatory bodies (including, but not limited to, HM Revenue and Customs, the Department for Work and Pensions and the Pensions Regulator).

The Trustees can share your data with the employer for the purposes of providing information to members about access to the pension freedoms (either via a one-off exercise or as a business as usual offering) or other incentive exercises (such as PIE).

Your data may be shared by the Schemes' administrator with sub-processors for particular outsourced activities such as bulk printing jobs, confirmation of address/existence, offsite backup and archive. A comprehensive list of parties with whom data may be shared is set out in the Trustees' formal Data Mapping document, available on request in writing to the Data Controllers at the address above.

The Schemes administrators, on behalf of the Trustees, will use your personal data to ensure that the correct benefits can be paid to you and that your requests can be dealt with efficiently, in accordance with the Trustees' legal obligation to run the Schemes in accordance with the Trust Deed and Rules. The Trustees and / or administrators may contact you directly in order to provide relevant information, or to deal with your queries.

In addition, it is in your and the Trustees' legitimate interests to use your personal information to:

so that the correct benefits can be paid

so that you, the Trustee(s) and their advisers are not subject to legal sanctions which may impact benefits
- Efficiently manage the impact of any change to the legal status of the sponsoring company
so that your benefits are not adversely affected for example by a sale or company merger

The Scheme Actuary uses your personal data to advise the Trustees on the financial management of the Schemes. This advice helps to ensure the Trustees are able to meet their obligations to pay members' benefits, and is necessary to comply with obligations placed on them by legislation, including the Pensions Act 2004.

The Scheme Actuary may also use your personal data in research which assists actuaries in providing this type of advice - for example research into the mortality experience (life expectancy) of pension Schemes members in general. This may include the provision of personal data, anonymised as far as possible, to a recognised external authority, such as the Continuous Mortality Investigation (CMI) which investigates mortality experience on behalf of the Institute and Faculty of Actuaries.

The Scheme Actuary will not pass your personal data to any third party without the prior agreement of the Trustees.

The Trustees have conducted due diligence on their suppliers to ensure they process data within the UK and/or the EEA. It is possible that the trustees and the partners / staff of adviser firms may take laptops and smartphones with them on trips outside of the UK and/or the EEA, indirectly causing data to be sent outside of the EEA.

We have received guidance that as long as the information stays with the individual on the laptop / smartphone and their employer has an effective procedure to deal with security and the other risks of using laptops (including the extra risks of international travel), it is reasonable to conclude that adequate data protection exists.

Where any of your information is transferred outside the EEA (e.g. because any of the Trustees' advisers or service providers, or the sponsoring employers, have IT systems located in other jurisdictions), the Trustees will ensure that there are appropriate safeguards in place to ensure the security of personal data.
